The Lima Times-Democrat.

VOL. XI, NO. 263. LIMA, OHIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1895. PRICE THREE CENTS

BOOMING CANNON

Herald the Arrival of Senator Brice at Springfield.

Campbell, Sorg and Other Prominent Democrats on the Ground.

Sentiment Growing in favor of Ex-Governor Campbell Being the Nominee for Governor.

Getting Ready for the Preliminary Work of the Convention This Evening

Special to TIMES-DEMOCRAT.

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 20—The city is crowded with Democrats attending the big Democratic convention. Everything is decorated, and the city has on her holiday attire.

The silver men are feeling jubilant at this juncture. They claim that the resolution adopted at their secret conference last night, demanding the restoration of silver, will be acceptable to the gold men and will be the means of preventing a row in the convention on the silver question.

Senator Brice arrived this morning at 10.47 in his private car. His coming was heralded by booming cannons.

Talk here is that Sorg's friends are trying to force him to the front as gubernatorial candidate.

Ex-Governor Campbell arrived at 10 45 this morning and was given an ovation. It is believed that Campbell will be nominated unless Sorg decides to run.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 20.—Many delegates were here last night, although the Democratic state convention does not assemble till tomorrow. The fight between the free silver and the Erie men will occur this evening, when the members of the committee on resolutions and other committees of the organization are selected. There are 808 delegates. The silver men classify them as 343 for free silver, 328 for gold, and 137 doubtful. The Brice men claim there are 460 for "honest money," and of the 343 claimed by the Thurman men for silver, some are doubtful.

It is generally believed since the last counties selected delegates yesterday that the Brice men will control all the organization, and have 14 out of the 21 members of the committee on resolutions. Senator Brice, ex-Governor Campbell and other leaders will arrive this morning, and are to dine with Hon John H Thomas, the free silver leader. This fact is recognized as assuring a compromise before the district meetings are held at 5 p. m.

It is believed that there will be some agreement at the Thomas dinner as to who will be nominated for governor. If ex Governor Campbell will not run, then John H. Thomas or James Kilbourne may be nominated. Both are free silver men. The real issue pending is as to what concession will be made to the free silver men and yet make the financial record for the party that is desired by Senator Brice. One may get the platform and the other the nominee.

There are some bitter contests to be settled while Senator Brice is presiding as temporary chairman, and there may be trouble at the opening of the convention if all the silver contestants are unseated.

Silver Men Meet.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 20.—The silver men held a meeting last night at which it was resolved not to accept the nominee or anything else in lieu of conceding the platform. The meeting decided that all they asked was for recognition in the platform. A committee headed by Allen W. Thurman, was appointed to draft a conservative silver plank to submit to the committee on resolutions to-night. This committee was directed to limit the coinage to that of American silver free 16 to 1, and not include the silver of any other country. The meeting heard some rabidly radical speeches, but the spirit of the majority was for a conservative course toward Senator Brice and what was termed "his majority."

Colonel Kilbourne Declines.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 20.—Colonel James Kilbourne has written an open letter to Hon James Ross and other Democrats of this city refusing to permit the use of his name at Springfield, saying that he could not accept if nominated, as the condition of his business would not permit of his candidacy.

Sunday evening, when the Ohio Southern excursion train was returning from Quincy, Charley, the little four-year-old son of brakeman H. N. Gregory, of the C. & E., in some way became separated from his parents and got off the train at Jackson Center with a strange lady. Mrs. Gregory supposed that the little fellow was with his father, and the latter thought his son was with Mrs. Gregory, and consequently the boy was not missed until the train had left the station, when some young men on the rear platform of the coach saw little Charley coming down the track after the train as fast as he could run and calling for the train to stop. Some one pulled the bell cord and the little fellow was soon on board again.

The members of the Second Regiment Drum and Bugle corps returned home from Camp Gibson yesterday afternoon in excellent spirits over the impression they had made with the regimental officers, who frequently complimented their appearance and drumming. The boys were sworn in as privates, but will soon be transferred onto the musician's payroll, with their headquarters at Kenton. Company C left Camp Gibson Sunday, went to Put-in-Bay, via Toledo, and returned home last night. The boys all say that the camp this season was the most enjoyable one for years and the Put-in-Bay trip was also very enjoyable.

OIL AND GAS.

NOTES.

The Ohio and Indiana people have repaired their factory and begun running it again this morning.

Davis, Crab and Yazel started a well this morning on the stone quarry lot, west of town.

The Faurot well number 2, located south of number 1, will be started to-day.

The Geiger Oil company shot their well on the Zeitz farm, east of Lima, yesterday. It makes a good showing.

DRILLER FATALLY INJURED.

Andy Wilhelm, a well-known driller, was seriously injured the latter part of last week while drilling a well on the J. H. Richie farm, between Hume and Cridersville. He was standing with his back to the large bull wheel and was manning the brake while the tools were being let down. A drilling bit, which was standing against a board near the bull wheel, was jarred from its position and dropped over into the rapidly revolving wheels. The bit, which weighed 150 pounds, was caught and carried around the big wheel and was thrown with terrific force. It struck Wilhelm in the back and hips and knocked him out of the derrick into a cornfield twenty-five feet away. Wilhelm's hips were painfully bruised and he was injured internally so badly that his physician entertains but little hope of his recovery. Wilhelm is from Defiance and his parents are dead. Dr. Murphy, who was summoned, has been with the injured man almost constantly since the accident occurred.

DENVER HORROR.

Gumry Hotel Demolished by an Explosion.

GUESTS BURIED AND BURNED.

List of Dead and Missing Now Numbers Twenty-Five.

FIREMEN DELVING IN THE RUINS

For the Victims of the Awful Catastrophe—The Horrors of the Heap Not Yet Fully Revealed—Search Being Carried On With the Utmost Energy—Fire Again Breaks Out in the Wreckage, Impeding the Work of Rescue—Everything in the Shape of a Record Destroyed—Only Seven Bodies Had Been Recovered Last Night—The Cause of the Disaster Attributed to the Carelessness of the Night Engineer—List of the Dead, Injured and Missing.

DENVER, Aug. 20.—A portion of Gumry hotel, the scene of Sunday night's frightful disaster, is still standing, gaunt and sinister, constantly threatening to crash down upon those delving in the ruins at any moment. The search for victims has been carried on with the utmost energy constantly with the aid of 20 lights. Flames broke out afresh in the wreckage last night, and the fire engines are again pouring forth water, still further impeding the work of rescue.

The list of dead and missing now numbers 25, making the disaster the worst that ever occurred in the city. Up to 8:30 last night only seven bodies had been recovered, being those of Manager Gremer and his wife, clasped in each others arms; George Burt, a Rock Island railroad conductor; Mrs. George R. Wolfe and daughter, Fred Hubbold and Will Richards, the elevator operator of the hotel. Among the missing includes Elmer Pierce (not Lush) the night engineer, who is said to have reentered the hotel just before the explosion occurred. It is to this man's carelessness that the disaster is attributed.

The bodies of Peter Gumry and General Adams are still in the ruins. Judge James Glynn, who was at first supposed to have been in his room at the hotel, turns out to be at Holyoke, Colo., where he was spending Sunday with friends.

A vast throng surrounded the building on all sides, pressing forward as far as the fire ropes would allow. The police are constantly guarding against any one slipping through the lines, on account of the great danger that the front of the building may fall.

FULL PARTICULARS

Of the Worst Disaster That Ever Occurred in the City of Denver.

DENVER, Aug. 20.—The Gumry hotel on Lawrence street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets was demolished by an explosion which occurred shortly after midnight. The explosion took place in the rear portion of the building and the cause has not yet been ascertained. There was no warning of the sudden disaster, and it is certain that a number of guests and employes of the hotel have lost their lives in the ruins. It is a marvel that any one escaped.

To add to the horror of the situation the ruins of the big building took fire, and many of the unfortunates who were not killed outright by the crash were Slowly Burned to Death.

Their screams and pleadings that they be killed to save them from torture by fire were piteous in the extreme, but the terror-stricken bystanders were powerless to render them any aid.

Peter Gumry, proprietor of the hotel, is given up for lost and his wife is also missing. Besides Peter Gumpsy and R. C. Gremer, the proprietors of the hotel, the day clerk and the night clerk, are both missing. Immediately after the explosion occurred a boy was heard wailing in the corner of a room which had nearly all fallen away. His parents had gone done with the first crash. Afterward the little one's cries became weaker and weaker and when the flames shot into the skeleton of the building his voice was silenced.

Injured by Flying Debris.

The force of the explosion and the concussion of the falling walls shattered the windows on both sides of Lawrence street, from Seventeenth to Eighteenth street. Back of the hotel, on Larimore street, the plateglass windows of all the business houses were utterly wrecked, and belated pedestrians were badly injured by the falling glass and flying debris. The fronts of many buildings in the vicinity were badly wrecked.

The hotel structure for 100 feet along the alley and extending 75 feet toward the front was a mass of debris. Brick and plaster were piled in heaps 10 feet high, and from this mass of wreckage could be heard the moans of the injured and dying.

At 12.35 five injured persons were taken out. They were all inmates of the upper story and sank down with the floors, escaping more fortunately than those below.

Shrieks of the Dying.

Every engine in the city was called to the scene, but the flames could not possibly be gotten under control before many of the injured had been cremated. As their chances of escape lessened the cries of the imprisoned people increased, heartrending shrieks arising from every portion of the great mass of wreckage.

Two injured women had been almost extricated from the ruins, when the flames approached so close that the rescuers had to abandon them for their own safety. The bodies of three women were also seen in the back part of the building, but could not be reached. The fireemen worked with great heroism. The heat was intense and the smoke blinding. Electric light wires dangling in the alley and walls tottering to a fall, increased the perils of the situation.

Once the man almost managed to reach the interior, whence proceeded cries for succor, but as they crossed the threshold, the and exposed to view the inmates making frantic struggles to escape. Mrs Gremer, wife of the assistant superintendent of the state capitol, with her husband are in the ruins, for according to the firemen, they saw the woman appealing to them from back of a truss that pinioned her to the floor of the office, when she had tried to escape.

At 1 o'clock the fire got under control on the department and made rapid headway, with chances of consuming the entire block. Every engine in the city was summoned, and Chief Parmelee gave a reluctant order for his men to cease attempts at life saving where the rescue appeared unobtainable and ordered all men to fight the fire. The entire building was ablaze and there is no way of ascertaining the loss of human life until the flames are extinguished.

Records Destroyed.

By the explosion everything in the shape of a record was destroyed, and there will be no means of realizing the extent of the fatalities, even after the building has been razed to the ground, for the bones are in the center of a furnace that will reduce them to a calcined mass and destroy all traces of identity.

The firemen made a brave effort to rescue, but were compelled to abandon attempts.

The Gumry hotel was a 5-story brick with stone front, and built about six years ago. It was of the better kind of second-class hotels, catering largely to transient family patronage. Thus many women and children were among the guests. The Gumry has been destroyed by fire three times. Under the management of the late Tom Thumb the Eden Musee was burned, and the midget and his wife were carried out by the firemen. Again, when a furniture factory fire entered and swept the block, killing the watchman, who had fallen asleep at his post of duty.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scene surrounding the death of James Murphy, contractor, was heartrending. The firemen heard the agonizing cries from the man that he was burning and asking them to continue to play the water. After a few hours' heroic work the firemen reached him. His two lower limbs were pinioned between two heavy joists. After the most herculean efforts, with dense smoke blinding them, the firemen released Murphy's left leg. At this moment a shot of flame compelled them to withdraw. Murphy then offered his rescuers $1,000 to get him out, and piteously demanded them to chop his leg off. A second later the west wall collapsed and covered Murphy with tons of ruins. Mr. Murphy came to Denver from Omaha six years ago.

Mrs George R. Wolfe from Lincoln, Neb., visiting Mrs Schmittell, was a victim of the catastrophe. She was accompanied by her 5 year old daughter. Mrs Wolfe's husband is a prominent tobacco manufacturer of Lincoln. He left the hotel Sunday for a tour of Colorado.

J. A. Brown and J. L. Kirk of Omaha are among the missing. They registered at the Gumrey Saturday afternoon and have not been seen since the explosion. Mrs. Brown telegraphed an inquiry from Omaha and Chief Gould ing answered that there were little hopes of her husband being alive. A suit of clothes was found in the ruins of the hotel in the pockets of which was a 1,000-mile railroad book bearing the name of A. Stucky and a letter addressed to Miss Hattie Layton, Belvidere, Ills.

M. E. (not J. H.) Letson, a dairyman of this city, was before he was rescued. His injuries are a crushed arm, several contusions and the shock to his nerves. Mr Letson said: "I was more concussed than pinioned, as only my left leg, there where you see the bandages, and my right arm here, were held down by weights. You can not have the faintest idea of my feelings as I lay there in the bottom of the basement with all the ruins on top and around me, hearing the excruciating cries of the dying and those in agony, and being almost overcome by the shock and smoke, soaked with water and almost drowned and fearing the next minute I would be buried alive."

The total loss caused by the explosion and fire is about $75,000. The Gumry hotel was worth about $25,000 and had about $8,000 worth of furniture. It is a total wreck but was insured for $15,000.

At 12 30 a. m three more bodies were uncovered, those of Bdai Lorah and Frederick French, of Central City, Colo., and an unknown. The former has been identified by Mr. Lorah's father, who is assisting in removing the debris from the bodies. The third body is burned beyond recognition.

Following are revised lists of the dead and injured so far as yet ascertained:

We appeal to all good citizens for their assistance in this period of public exigency.

A well-known business man of Delphos advanced the opinion to the reporter that never again would we see a canal boat plying the waters of the Miami and Erie canal. His reasons for such belief is that the reservoir will never again be adequate to supply the channel, because of the many oil and gas wells drilled in the pond, which drink up the water to fill the vacant places made by the removal of those products. The idea of a ship canal is promising, but there's many a slip'twixt the cup and lip.—Delphos Herald

TIMES-DEMOCRAT PUB. Co., Lima, Ohio.

Lima is becoming a railroad center. The completion of the Lima Northern will give her six roads.

The Democratic State convention holds its preliminary session in Springfield to-night. A big crowd is in the Champion City and an enthusiastic convention is assured.

It is not more than twenty years since fifty-two pound rails were regarded as heavy enough for all ordinary railroad purposes, but that was when light engines and light-weight cars were in use and heavy freight rates were in vogue. The freight rates have kept steadily decreasing until it has been necessary to double and triple the capacity of cars and locomotives. In order to provide for this increase in capacity the avoirdupois has had to be largely increased and that has made heavier rails a necessity. The rail which one of the largest systems in the country is now making standard and is putting in throughout its system weighs 100 pounds to each yard.

The attention of the voters and taxpayers of Lima and Allen county is directed to the fact that Allen county, with all her vast resources, owes but $10,000, and that is the residue of an issue of $50,000 of bonds for the building of a Children's Home. On Monday of this week Auditor Walthers paid $15,000 of this issue of bonds, which matured on the date, leaving only the small amount above given unpaid, which will mature next year. The remainder will then be paid, which will leave Allen county without a cent of indebtedness. This is the direct result of careful management of the county's financial affairs by competent Democratic officials. The persons in Lima who have, within the past thirty or sixty days paid the enormous tax rate imposed by the Republican management of affairs in this city, should compare the two systems of management of public finances by officials elected by the different political parties. Lima is groaning beneath an enormous local indebtedness; a tax rate made burdensome by increased levies this spring for almost every purpose for which taxes are collected within the city: extravagance in every department of the public service: a municipal government which demands only one qualification from heads of departments, and that profligacy in the expenditure of public money. The funds of the people, extorted from them through the medium of excessive taxation are dissipated without proper equivalent, and the burdens of the taxpayers are increased without compunction or regard for the necessities of those who furnish the money thus recklessly wasted. In the county, under the careful management of Democratic bonds and officials, economy prevails. The public money is appropriated only for the necessities which good public service requires. Public improvements are honestly made and the money expended for such improvement is only spent in such amounts as the actual improvement requires. No suspicion of corruption attaches to it as has disgraced some of the recent city improvements in Lima under the present corrupt administration in this municipality. The county tax rate has been reduced on most of the items on the county tax duplicate, and the money of the taxpayers is spent carefully and judiciously and only such an amount asked from them as the necessities of the case demand. Taxpayers, compare the two systems, and choose which will best subserve your interests. Paste the comparison in your hats and keep it there until November, then vote for those people who will save your money. They will all be found on the good old honest Democratic ticket.

Third. Retire all greenbacks and certificates.

Fourth. Require national banks to surrender their charters, and permit them to take out state charters under ... supervision.

Fifth. Take the government entirely out of the banking business.

THE VESTMAKERS' STRIKE.

Over Two Thousand Out in New York for Renewal of Agreement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Two thousand five hundred union vestmakers, including 700 women and girls, went on a strike yesterday for a renewal of their agreement. The strikers assembled early at 328 East Houston street, where speeches were made by Secretary Morris Freund and others.

The strikers are members of local assemblies Nos. 436 and 1058 K. of L. It is not likely the contractors will make any determined opposition, but as some of them are not pressed with orders it may require a week to close up the strike.

The Knee Pants Makers' union is the next organization booked to strike, but not until they hear from the contractors on the question of signing their agreement.

Cloak Makers' Union No. 1 has presented a new piece work price for cloak making from 25 to 50 per cent over present figures. There are 10,000 workers interested who, unless concessions are made, will go on a general strike.

Several arrests have been made.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE PROGRESS OF WOMEN IN USING THE BICYCLE.

Dressing the Children—Bicycle Costumes In Paris—After a Hot Day—The Japanese Wheelwomen—Women at Gottingen—Seasonable Hints.

All the world seems to be awheel. Grandmothers and babies ride bicycles, so do the seamstress and the society leader, the millionaire and the hod carrier, the soldier, sailor and postman, the doctor, lawyer and clergyman, maids, matrons, wives, mothers, husbands, fathers, brothers, sisters, aunts, cousins—all sorts and conditions of men and women have yielded to the fascination of these tandem spheres of steel and rubber and are rolling over the streets and highways, lanes and byways of town and village in bewildering procession.

A GRACEFUL MOUNT.

The bicycle craze, for that is the only name for it, has affected trade and commerce in many and palpable ways. It has entered seriously into the question of transportation. Legislation has been necessary to meet the new conditions of three-fourths of the country's citizens whirling over the ground on pneumatic tires.

Women succumbed late, but they have gone under fast and far now that they have acknowledged the sway of the wheel. The woman who does not ride is getting rarer every day. The woman who has not thought of riding is really a remarkable person.

Women's bicycling received its real impetus when the smart set took it up. Once the seal of fashion was set upon the sport the pace of its success was designated. The limit of that success is still unsettled. Conservatism in general has entered its protest in print and by word of mouth and continues to do so, but individual conservatism has daily yielded to the infectious influences all about, and the ranks of the new riders every week are recruited from the most modest and feminine, the least aggressive and most womanly of women.

There is no earthly reason why they should not be. If the exercise can be brought into disrepute, it will be by its monopoly by the other sort of women. It is those of the sex who adorn and dignify every act they perform who are needed in this and every other pastime, exercise or occupation.

That women can ride the wheel acceptably in every sense of the word is demonstrated every hour of every day. The illustration shows a woman in the act of mounting, and her pose is as graceful and pleasing as if she were entering a carriage, much more so than the spring to a horse's back for a canter.

In the matter of costume the heaven of taste and modesty is as valuable among wheelwomen as among women who do not wheel. So long as it is the custom of society that women shall wear skirts she should keep to them on the wheel. Numerous skirt costumes have been designed that are safe and convenient, and the plea that either quality is increased by bloomers is not tenable. If in future decades dress for women shall be revolutionized and the skirts of today be done away with, as have the farthingales and coifs of former generations, there will then be no public sentiment or conventionalism to be outraged and displeased, and the bloomer question may take on a different phase. The present, and it is to be hoped the future, woman for many a long day should keep to her skirts.

Nor should the matter of age affect woman's riding. If she is inclined to the exercise and has the strength for it, the Biblical limitation of threescore and ten need not prevent her taking to it. The older woman, however, who mounts the wheel needs to be especially careful in her dress. What is piquant and effective at 20 is not equally so at 40 and 50.—New York Times.

Dressing the Children.

The first thing in dressing little children is to make them comfortable, and the other first thing is to keep them clean—absolutely clean. Fine clothes are much harder to wash than plain ones, so that sometimes they are not washed so often. A plain little cotton frock just from the washtub is a much more agreeable sight than an elaborately trimmed one not quite fresh. Have plenty of clothes—so many that they need not be considered at all and may be put on fresh four or five times a day if necessary, and so plain that they are no trouble to wash.

One woman who determined that her little girl should be always clean, and who was obliged to consider pennies ...

... anything ... white ... as a ... frock ... After ... were simply washed ... and ... beautiful little ... a frock ... at all, so that all the labor of starching and pressing was saved.

This woman's child was always as fresh as a ... which is so much sweeter and prettier than colors. Nothing is more comfortable than white India silk ... and ... it, and as easily washed as cotton, while more comfortable. A little white silk frock is the perfection of comfort. Many than white ... are useful also. If people save the money they spend on lace ... ribbons and starch and spend ... on ... material and ... plain clothes, surely the children would be much more easy in their minds and bodies in this weather.—New York World.

Bicycle Costumes In Paris.

Just now the ambition of most women appears to be to ride the man's machine, the diamond frame, a lighter machine than the ordinary woman's wheel, and I honestly believe that this latter wheel will soon be relegated to the limbo of curiosities. Much the same thing will happen with regard to the present costume. Already the skirt is fast going. Another step and it will be but a memory.

Here is the orthodox and really fashionable costume: Very full knickerbockers, the folds falling below the knee, the appearance being that of a skirt, and yet without a skirt's inconvenience. The waist may vary, but the most popular, especially with slim waisted women, is that known as the bolero. And, above all, a man's cap or hat, in warm weather of straw, at other seasons of felt. The stockings may be of fine wool, black or dark blue. Silk stockings are tabooed, and any color but black or dark blue, such as stripes or "loud" colors, are considered deplorable. Finally, laced or buttoned shoes, but not reaching above the ankle. Gaiters are a blunder, and, moreover, they are apt to hurt.

All this is highly artistic when properly worn, and yet the height of perfection has not been reached. Hundreds of bicyclists, men and women of irreproachable taste, are busy designing something that will be better, and the fashionable tailors are losing sleep in the quest for some successful design. The bicycle world awaits with an ovation the man of genius who will suggest a costume at once simple, elegant, appropriate, comfortable, and last, but not least, not yet worn everywhere.—Scribner's.

After a Hot Day.

It is a little hard to "dress up" in the evening, when nothing seems to suit the sunburned face and hands so well as the negligee outing costume we wear daily, which, by the way, should be navy blue or dark green. But suppose we have a secret talk together, my blue eyed maids, before it is time to appear at the tea table and see if things cannot be bettered a little!

First, let me tell you, before you go on a water excursion, to thoroughly bathe your face, neck and hands with any pure cold cream, an excellent preparation for warding off and removing sunburn, that can be bought at any druggist's. Then, when you enter your room all heated and tired on your arrival home, first take a sponge bath, and after it fill a deep basin with lukewarm water and into it boldly plunge your face, holding your breath and closing your eyes.

Keep it there as long as possible without breathing; then "come to the surface," take a deep breath and try it again, repeating the process a number of times. Gently dab your face dry with a soft towel, afterward sponging it lightly with alcohol, and sit, or, what is better, lie down and rest half an hour or longer.

At the end of that time you will find your color will have perceptibly diminished, and a little baby powder deftly applied will remove the shiny appearance and tone down the overredness effectively. On retiring for the night bathe the face, neck and arms again and apply the cold cream as before directed.—Jenness Miller's Monthly.

The Japanese Wheelwomen.

The all conquering bicycle has invaded Japan, and is now a familiar sight in the land of the jinrikisha. The Europeans take to it kindly, and the little brown men and women are equally enthusiastic. The government has equipped many of its postmen with roadsters, especially those who deliver mail in the suburbs or in the country districts. In each brigade a bicycle corps has been formed, which is daily drilled in about the same style as similar organizations in the armies of Europe.

The Japanese people themselves still regard the wheel as a great curiosity, but are beginning to both master and manufacture it. At one or two places Japanese girls have learned to ride the wheel, and those who have seen them pronounce it the funniest thing imaginable. A lady in Nagasaki writes to me: "A Japanese girl in our neighborhood has astonished her people by appearing on a 'safety.' Her costume was extraordinary, consisting of the native kamona or dress and a pair of nondescript garments, which are not knickerbockers, trousers, zouaves or bloomers. The ludicrous effect is heightened by the girl having the national habit of turning the toes in developed to its largest extent. All that you see when she passes you is a pair of round and pretty heels wabbling in an uncertain manner and a little body coiled up that makes you think of a gay little monkey on top of a pole. Japanese girls are funny enough, but on a bicycle they are simply excruciating."—New York Mail and Express.

Women's Clubhouses.

The $1,000,000 Temple of Chicago is in one sense a woman's clubhouse. It is the headquarters of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, $600,000 of its cost having been raised by that body. It is a great office building, 13 stories high, situated on one of the best sites in the city. There is a clubhouse at Decatur, Ills., that cost the members of its woman's club about $10,000. The Ladies' club of Kalamazoo, Mich., has built a very fine home. New Orleans has a woman's clubhouse that rents its two upper floors for living purposes to club members at nominal rates.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Radical Resolutions.

The Equal Suffrage association of Topeka has adopted this stirring resolution:

That it is the duty of every self respecting woman in the state of Kansas to fold her hands and refuse to help any religious, charitable or moral reform or political association until the men of the state shall strike the adjective "male" from the suffrage clause of the constitution, and thereby declare that women's opinions shall be respected and counted at the ballot box as are all men's opinions outside the state penitentiary, the idiot and the lunatic asylums.

Sunburn a Healthy Thing.

An optimistic dermatologist has lately promulgated the theory that sunburn is rather a good thing in its way. The action of the sun upon the skin is really beneficial, he says, and it is only in the first place that the effect is unpleasant. After the sunburn has worn off the texture of the skin is finer, smoother and more elastic than it was before.

TURNING THE TABLES.

The Unfortunate Lawyer and His Client, the Nurse.

The extent to which lawyers can exercise their imagination when pleading in behalf of their clients is almost beyond belief, but sometimes the tables are turned in a very unexpected fashion.

On one occasion Mr. S—— was engaged in presenting the case of a woman who petitioned the court to grant her a judicial separation from her husband, a workingman, and urged that as she was in extreme poverty she was entitled to alimony according to her husband's means.

With a voice broken in its pathos the lawyer dilated on the imperative necessity of the case, declaring that his client was utterly destitute, not having a mattress to lie upon, and not possessing the means to purchase a crust of bread.

When the evidence had been heard the judge, who well knew the counsel's unlimited powers of exaggeration, turned to the appellant and addressed to her a few questions.

"Have you then no occupation?"

"Yes, my lord; I am a nurse," was the incautious reply.

"And where are you employed?"

"I am at Mr. S——'s," she unwittingly rejoined, pointing to her counsel.

It was with the greatest difficulty that the judge refrained from joining in the shout of laughter with which this admission was hailed.—Boston Traveler.

COLORADO'S CLIMATE.

A Region of Outdoor Life Decidedly Favorable to Health.

The easterner, bred and born at sea level, has a very vague idea of that part of his country which is at a cloud height, and he has scarcely any conception of the governing climate of such a section. The purely picturesque appeals to the tourist, and he gives hardly a thought, surely not a serious one, to the high altitude section through which he passes.

The Adirondacks have accomplished wonderful temporary healings and permanent cures for certain pulmonary troubles, yet their beneficial results do not compare in extent with those of that section which lies at an altitude varying from 3,500 to 8,000 feet above the sea, known as the high and dry Rocky Mountain belt, whose heart is Colorado.

From a statistical comparative weather bureau report little idea could be formed of this climate, for in these comparative statements the dry and rarified condition of the air is not fully appreciated. The dominant feature of this high altitude is light, dry and electrical atmosphere, with its abundant sunshine and clear weather. This is true of all seasons at the 6,000 foot level, or while rain falls in torrents for an hour nearly every day during May, June, July and August, the sun always shines the rest of the day, and ten minutes after the rain has ceased the sandy roads are dry and the air does not retain moisture. After these months not a drop of water falls from the cloudless sky, and snowstorms are few and light.

The mercury occasionally drops to 20 degrees below zero during winter nights and rises to 60 degrees in the shade the following morning, while in summer, although a blanket is always a nightly necessity, the thermometer often registers 90 degrees during the day and the heat of the sun is always intense. These extremes are much less keenly felt than they would be at sea level, owing to the dryness of the air.

It is a region of out of door life, where regaining of health is a business. Thousands of beings, whose existence would be measured by weeks if they returned to the dampness of sea level, here are well and active. It is true that some cases of pulmonary trouble are not benefited at the 6,000 foot elevation, but either the disease has advanced so far that the invalid could not live more than a few weeks in any climate, or he is affected with some heart trouble. Cases of the latter sort migrate to an extension of this dry belt, which descends into New Mexico, along the Pecos and Rio Grande valleys, where the elevation is from 3,000 to 4,000 feet. There the action of the heart is modified, and the patient is more benefited than in the higher portions of the Rockies.—New Science Review.

Mr. C. D. Yonker, a well known druggist of Bowling Green, Ohio, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I take pleasure in recommending it to my customers, for I am certain that it will always please them. BIG OCEAN WAVES.

Careful Data Show Them to Be Not Over Thirty-two Feet High.

An article quoted in Current Literature gives this interesting information on ocean waves. Dr. G. Schott, as the result of studying the form and height of the waves of the sea, claims that under a moderate breeze their velocity was 24.6 feet per second, or 16.8 miles an hour, which is about the speed of a modern sailing vessel.

As the wind rises the size and speed of the waves increase. In a strong breeze their length rises to 200 feet and their speed reaches 36 or 36.4 feet per second. Waves the period of which is nine seconds, the length 400 or 425 feet, and the speed 28 nautical miles per hour are produced only in storms. During a southeast storm in the southern Atlantic he measured waves 600 feet long, and this was not a maximum, for in latitude 28 degrees south and longitude 39 degrees east he observed waves of 15 seconds' period, which were 1,150 feet long, with a velocity of 78.7 feet per second, or 46½ nautical miles an hour.

Dr. Schott does not think that the maximum height of the waves is very great. Some observers have estimated it at 30 or 40 feet in a wind of the force represented by 11 on the Beaufort scale, the highest number of which is 12, and Dr. Schott's maximum is just 32 feet. He believes that in great tempests waves of more than 30 feet are rare, and that even those of 30 feet are exceptional. In the ordinary trade winds the height is 5 or 6 feet. The ratio of height to length is about 1.33 in a moderate wind, 1.18 in a strong wind and 1.17 in a storm, from which it follows that the inclination of the wave is respectively about 6, 10, 11 degrees. The ratio of the height of the waves to the force of the wind varies greatly.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com. Why not give the great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at Melville's Drug Store. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.

The Lima Team Secures Four Out of Five Games With the "Hoosiers"

Th... seven ... attended ... base ... yesterday saw ... of ... the ... A ... s... d... greeted the ... and ... treated ... the ... as ... as ever

There is one thing that injures base ball in Lima more than anything else and that is the wrangling that takes place ... on the grounds. It is often ... disgusting. The people ... and certainly ... there ... to see something else than a fuss. It is the proper thing to stand for one's rights and insist on having fair play but this continuous grumbling which one hears so often should be stopped at once.

To all appearances Lima was not "in it" in yesterday's game up to the eighth inning. But fortunes are quickly lost and won, and so it was in the last two innings. Not one hit was secured off Mehaffey until the eighth, when Stokes, the first man up, pounded the sphere for a three-bagger. This was a source of encouragement, and the other boys either waited and found their bases on balls or hit safely. During this inning Lima secured five hits.

In the first inning Winchester was fortunate in hitting the ball freely, and obtained 5 runs, but after that Faurot settled himself and pitched his usual good ball, allowing them but one more run. At the start of the game, Whiteman caught until a uniform was secured for young Sealts, who caught the remaining innings in excellent style, also making some very pretty throws to second.

During the seventh inning the visitors claimed that Carrol should have been declared out at home, but when told their share of the gate receipts depended upon their continuing the game, they meekly submitted, but demanded a change of umpires.

NOTES.

The Lima "Reds," a South Side team, went to Quincy Sunday to play a boys' nine at that place, but when they arrived they found they were to cross bats with a strong team from Springfield, instead. The boys were game, however, and played with the big fellows, and succeeded in getting 3 runs while Springfield scored 28 runs

Tribute of Respect.

WHEREAS, It has been the will of an inscrutible yet ever kind and loving Providence to remove from our council, his family and his country, a most worthy member and brother, Thomas W. Williams: and

WHEREAS, Allen Lodge No. 223, I. O. O. F., desires to give expression to the high regard, warm friendship and brotherly love held for our deceased brother during his sojourn with us and now cherished green in our memories: therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the taking away of our Brother Williams—a man of sincere friendship, unfeigned love as simple truth—we have indeed been sadly afflicted, but bow in humble submission to the rulings of Him who trieth the reins and searcheth the hearts of the children of men.

Resolved, That while sadly missing the genial presence of our departed brother, his kind, fraternal greeting, able counsel and brotherly love, we ever hold such memories in loving remembrance.

Resolved, That in the loss of a loving husband and father his family has sustained a bereavement irreparable save through the healing grace of Him whose loving, tender care surpasseth all understanding.

Resolved, That in his answering the last roll call there has been stricken from the grand list of patriotic citizens, a man upright in principle, firm and earnest in his actions and devout and humble in his adherence to the teachings of divine truth—of whom, in simple truth, may be said, "Thomas W. Williams was a good citizen, and the world is better for his having lived in it."

Resolved, That these, our humble testimonials to the sterling worth of our brother, be spread upon our minutes, a copy sent to the bereaved family and the press of our city.

Chinese Government Wants No Foreign Interference

WHILE MAKING AN INVESTIGATION

Into the Circumstances of the Recent Massacres at Ku Cheng—The American and British Consuls Not Allowed to Take Any Part In the Investigation. State Department Not Surprised.

... A dispatch to The M... ... reported ... American and British consuls J. C. ... and R. T. Mansfield, who accompanied the commission appointed to investigate the recent massacres of missionaries and their families at Ku Cheng, to make any investigation into the circumstances of the massacre.

NO INFORMATION

At the Chinese Legation—State Department Officials Not Surprised.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The officials of the Chinese legation have no information throwing any light on the reported refusal of the home government to permit the members of the mixed British and American commission to investigate the Ku Cheng massacre. In fact the legation has not yet been apprised officially of the appointment of the commission.

The only explanation given as reason for the reported refusal is that the action reported to have been taken was by the Chinese local officials who possibly have not been informed by the central government of the appointment of the commission to make the investigation, the local officials acting merely on their own inclination in the premises.

If the reported action of the Chinese be correct, it is apparently not a matter of very great surprise to the officials of the state department here. They attribute any refusal of the local authorities to permit the commission to investigate the troubles to the well known desires of the Chinese to conduct such inquiries by their own people, the dislike of having any interference by outsiders, and to the general suspiciousness with which they look upon foreigners.

It is not feared here in official circles but that any complications that may have arisen in the present case will be adjusted, and ample reparation be made for the lives that were lost in the Ku Cheng massacre.

Serious Trouble Feared.

HONGKONG, Aug. 20.—The prefect sent with the commission to Ku Cheng, together with the Chinese officials at Ku Cheng, have refused to allow the presence of the consuls during the examination of the prisoners. The matter has been referred to the viceroy. Serious trouble is feared.

THREE HUNDRED KILLED

By an Explosion in the Artillery Barracks at Toula, Russia.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Daily News has a dispatch from Vienna which says that Trieste papers report that an explosion destroyed the artillery barracks at Toula, Russia, and that 300 men were killed, including many officers. The barracks were found to be completely undermined. Many arrests have been made.

No Reports Received.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—No reports have been received at either the state or navy department concerning the troubles between Bolivia and Peru. At present the United States has no warship in the waters of either of these countries, but in case of hostilities both the Alert at Panama and the Ranger at Guayaquil are available to look after American interests.

Dividends Declared.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The comptroller of the treasury has declared dividends in favor of insolvent national banks as follows: A second dividend, 25 per cent, the First National bank of Llano, Tex.; a second dividend, 25 per cent, the El Paso National bank, El Paso, Tex., and a second dividend, 10 per cent, the Second National bank of Columbia, Tenn.

The Pittsburg Still Raising Their Track and the Ohio Southern Comes Closer.

J. M. Craig, the roadmaster of the Pittsburg road, is in the city looking after the affairs of the east of the city, where the new railroad is expected to cross. The state of affairs remain as they were yesterday. A force of men are still working on the south track and raising it, but they are doing nothing to the north track. The Ohio Southern is grading and approaching still nearer to the Pittsburg. Mr. Craig says no peaceful settlement as yet has been reached between the two roads.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the Remedy half its worth. I am sorry everyone in the world does not know how good it is, as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion Co., Florida. For sale by Melville Bros., next to postoffice, and C. W. Heister, 58 public square.

NEW OFFICES.

United States Express Company Will Build Near C, H. & D. Depot.

The United States Express company began work this morning on a new office that they will erect near the C. H. & D. depot, at the south end of the platform. It will be an elegant building and an ornament to the place. Its dimensions will be 30x40 feet and it will be a two-story building of pressed brick and gray-stone trimmings and built as nearly as possible over the model of the C. H. & D. depot. F. X. Galamean has the contract to construct the new office.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages; this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Melville Bros, next to postoffice, and C. W. Heister, 58 public square.

Given a New Home.

William Parkenson, the boy who was arrested upon the complaint of his mother before Judge Robb for stealing a ring and being beyond her control, had a hearing before the judge yesterday and was sentenced to the reform farm at Lancaster till he is of age. He will have 6 years in which to learn a trade and be a man. Doit Fisher started with the boy this morning for his new home.

"Flaxy" Won the Cake.

Several of Lima's colored gentlemen went over to Delphos last evening and attended a cake walk. "Flaxy" Cunningham, of the C., H. & D. baggage room, succeeded in producing the best impression on Mayor Baxter, the judge of the affair, and captured the cake. He outclassed all competitors by his stylish walk.

"Be regular and punctual in all things," was one of the old maxims taught long ago. The last is not forgotten, but the first is scarce remembered, so irregular is the life of most people nowadays. The only corrector of this evil is Simmons Liver Regulator, which keeps the liver active and prevents the ills of irregular living: Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, etc. It also cures these troubles.

Plenty of Silk.

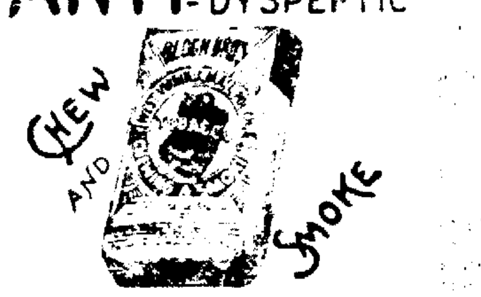

Last Saturday, a special train of ten cars loaded with raw silk passed through this city over the Pennsylvania line, enroute to New York. It was a portion of a large cargo recently shipped from China to be woven into fine fabrics. The shipment represented thousands of dollars, and it was handled with the care of gold dust.

Scared the Shahzada.

A London correspondent tells the following interesting episode of the shahzada and the review at Aldershot. He was evidently astonished and delighted by what he saw, but there was one critical moment during which he must have doubted the good faith of Englishmen. A large body of Lancers was put to the charge, and instead of charging past, as is the custom, it charged directly on the spectators—that is to say, on the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Connaught, the shahzada and their attendants. The object was to show how suddenly a military movement could be arrested, but the shahzada evidently doubted its purport, for as the troops advanced at full speed, with their lances leveled, he suddenly turned his horse half round as if he apprehended a mistake and a disaster. His attendants took care that his momentary exhibition of fear should not be too conspicuous. When his horse was turned round again, the Lancers had pulled up as if by the movement of one pair of reins a few yards from the royal party.

PEARSON'S VICTIM

Lying in Her Bed Almost at Death's Door

Repeats the Story of Pearson's Awful Crime, at the Preliminary Hearing This Morning

The story of the awful crime that Camrot Pearson is charged with, a full account of which appeared in the TIMES DEMOCRAT yesterday was repeated by Pearson's alleged victim Miss Mary Mull at a preliminary hearing which was given the case this morning The prosecuting witness, who is in the last stages of consumption, and who is weak and unusually ill from the effects of her terrible experience on Saturday night, was unable to be taken to the mayor's office to appear against the prisoner and, consequently, the mayor decided to hold the preliminary hearing at the home of Mr McClain and his family in Watt Town where Mrs Pearson and he: daughter, after they had escaped Pearson on sunday morning.

MISS MULL, TOOK REFUGE

About 9.30 o'clock this morning the prisoner was taken from the city prison by Chief Haller and they, together with Mayor Smiley and Walter Scott, the assistant court stenographer, and Ira Longsworth, counsel for the defendant, were driven to the home of the McClain family The hearing was held in the front room of the modest little dwelling and the conclusive testimony of the prosecuting witness was taken by the stenographer.

Miss Mull was too weak to sit up and was compelled to lie on a cot in the room while relating the story of the alleged assault made upon her by Pearson about 9 30 o'clock Saturday night.

Miss Mull stated that she had been ill with consumption for about two years and had lived with her mother and Pearson since last April. She had been unable to do any housework for the past several months and had been confined to her bed most of the time. It is evident that the young woman is now in the last stages of consumption and since her terrible experience last Saturday night her almost any time She frequently paused for breath while relating her awful story, and at one time had her mother bathe her face with cold water. She gave her testimony in a straightforward manner and only hesitated in a modest way when she had to repeat some of the language that Pearson had used. The story which she told was in substance the same as was stated in the TIMES-DEMOCRAT last evening, excepting the minute details of the brutal assault, which she was compelled to give.

After Miss Mull's testimony was taken Mayor Smiley stated that he did not consider it necessary to proceed further in the examination, as the evidence of the prosecuting witness alone was sufficient to justify him in binding the prisoner over to the grand jury.

After cross-examining the witness, attorney Longsworth stated that the defense would waive further examination.

The prisoner was taken to the county jail and the amount of his bail fixed at $1,500. At 2 30 o'clock this afternoon he had failed to secure bail.

The Big Democratic Convention—Senator Brice Here Last Night Enroute to the Champion City

SAM BARR

Is the Author of Another Broken Home.

Arrested Again Last Night Upon a Charge of Adultery—Traced by His Wife.

Sam Barr was arrested last night and was locked up the city prison upon a charge of adultery

The prisoner is the same man who caused the separation of Rob't Coleman and wife more than a year ago and who was afterwards sentenced to a long term in the Dayton work house, upon being convicted of adultery, in the long and sensational trial which was held in common pleas court.

After Barr returned here from the work house, he become reconciled with his wife and again lived with and provided for his family. Recently he began staying away from home at night and his wife became suspicious and determined to ascertain to whom her husband was paying visits.

Last night Mrs Barr went to the police station and requested that her husband be arrested again on a charge of adultery. A warrant was issued and five of the night patrolmen visited the residence of Harvey Neff, at Elizabeth and Murphy streets Upon arriving at the house the officers found everything in darkness and after seeing that the doors and windows were all guarded they knocked at the front door It was some time before the knock was answered, and when Mrs. Neff finally opened the door she held a revolver in her hand. Policeman Croy took charge of the revolver and two or three of the policemen entered the house. Barr was found inside, with all of his clothes on except his shoes and shirt. He didn't want to go to the police station, but could see no chance to escape and gave in.

The officers also had a warrant for Mrs. Neff upon a charge of disorderly conduct, but as she had two little children that could not be left alone, she was not taken to the police station, but was notified to appear before the mayor this morning. She appeared about 9 o'clock, but the mayor was busy and she was instructed to return this evening

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Barr had not pleaded to the charge against him.
